FLORIDA NEGROES TO EMIGRATE

Will Not Submit to Outrages and Abuse of White Men.

[Special Dispatch to The Transcript.]

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 17.—At last, the constant lynchings and brutal treatment of the negroes of this state is showing results in the movement of large masses of the colored people to leave the state and country. Nothing less than an exodus of negroes now threatens the state. The colored population is aroused as never before, and while a feeling of helplessness against the misuse and abuse of the whites exists, yet there is no feeling of submission to present conditions.

What is materially aiding the color exodus is the Liberian agitation. The shores of Africa are made to appear more hospitable than those of Florida. Reports from western Florida indicate that the Siberian movement has assumed large proportions. A negro preacher named Warner of Birmingham, Ala., has been in that section for some time working up the scheme of emigration and inciting the negroes to go out of the state. He has been very successful.

In Washington county alone 300 negroes who are heads of families have agreed to take ship for the African coast. They are now disposing of everything they have.

The preacher, Warner, is going to organize the negroes all over Florida.

INDIANA CATHOLICS PROTEST.

Will Issue a Manifesto Against the Papal Decree Adverse to Secret Societies.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

LAPORTE, Ind., July 17.—Since the issuing of the papal decree against secret societies in the Catholic churches of Chicago last Sunday, and placing secret order members under the ban of the church, there has been the most earnest discussion of the matter by Catholics throughout Illinois and Indiana. No action of the church has so aroused its members for years.

The Knights of Pythias of this state have decided to unite in issuing a manifesto opposed to the papal decree which makes it obligatory upon members of the order in fellowship with the church to surrender their membership. The manifesto will declare that the forms and rites of the Knights of Pythias are in no way inimical to the Catholic church. The manifesto will be sent to Rome.

CORBETT-FITZSIMMONS FIGHT.

To be Bitterly Opposed by the Best of Texas Citizens.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

DENIS, Texas, July 17.—Corbett and Fitzsimmons are not to be allowed to pull off their fight in this state without very serious opposition. It has been generally thought and said that most any lawlessness would be permitted in Texas, and pugilists have very generally given out that this state would be the place for future battles of the ring.

But a large and earnest meeting of church citizens held here yesterday begins to make it appear that the coming great fight will not come off so easily as was expected. A petition was started to request the governor to use every means to prevent the fight, and if the laws now in force are not sufficient to prevent its coming off, it is asked that a special session of the legislature be called and a law passed that will cover the case.

WAGES GO UP IN OLNEYVILLE.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 17.—It was with a good deal of surprise that the operatives in the Riverside mill at Olneyville found posted today notices of an advance in wages. It is understood that wages will be increased on a varying scale in different departments, along the line of the reduction of 1893. The advance is to be about one-half of the amount of the reduction at that time.

GREENHALGE APPOINTS BISHOP

The New Railroad Commissioner Comes From Athol.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

BOSTON, July 17.—At the Executive Council meeting today, Governor Greenhalge nominated George W. Bishop of Athol to be railroad commissioner in place of Everett A. Stevens, deceased. Mr. Bishop at the age of seventeen years entered the service of the Conn. and Pass. R. R. as a brakeman and fireman, and later entered the track department. In 1870 he accepted a position as section foreman on Vermont & Mass. R. R., where he remained until 1874 when he was appointed roadmaster of the Vermont and Mass. division of the Fitchburg road. He holds that position at present. He is prominent in town affairs at Athol.

THE ENGLISH ELECTIONS.

Ninety Said to be the Probable Majority for Lord Salisbury.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

LONDON, July 17.—Sir William Harcourt's acceptance of a nomination for the west division of Monmouthshire has greatly encouraged the liberals. The polling has been fixed for August 23. The most the Tories can hope for is to reduce the Liberal majority somewhat. The rejection of Arnold Morley, postmaster general in the late cabinet, makes a fourth ex-minister sent from the Liberal benches who has been defeated. The rejection of labor candidates in many of the electorates is noteworthy and indicates a conversion to unionism in the east end of London. The Conservatives made six gains in London yesterday and the party leaders estimate that Lord Salisbury will control the Commons by a majority of ninety over the combined Liberal and Irish vote.

BLOODY FAMILY FEUD.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

JACKSON, Miss., July 17.—At Leonard, a place twenty-five miles from here, there occurred yesterday one of the bloodiest feuds in the state's history. It was between the McKee and Ferrell families who had gone to court about some old trouble. After adjournment a dispute led to a general shooting and two of the McKees are reported killed and a half dozen others are wounded. The feud is of long standing and this blood letting was thought unavoidable for some time past.

DEMOCRATS SCORE.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 17.—Judge Moffett decided yesterday that the act of the last Republican legislature, repealing the law of 1891 as well as the act reapportioning the state are both void. It is because under the constitution an apportionment act can be passed only every sixth year. This is a decided victory for the Democrats, who are making a great deal of it.

HEIR TO $3,000,000 SUICIDES.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 17.—Kurd Martens, an ex-lieutenant in the German army and heir to an estate valued at $3,000,000 in Germany shot himself in the head yesterday while in a drunken debauch.

Grace Elizabeth Buckley.

Died, at an early hour this morning, Miss Grace Elizabeth Buckley of Williamstown, at the home of relatives in Johnsonville, N. Y., in the 21st year of her age.

Miss Buckley had suffered from consumption for some time and it was to this disease that death was due. Miss Buckley had been visiting in Johnsonville during the past month. The remains of the deceased were brought to Williamstown this morning on the 11.30 train.

Miss Buckley was born in Williamstown, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Buckley, and there her life was passed. She was a young lady who had a large circle of acquaintances, and one whom none knew but to admire. Miss Buckley had many friends in this town.

About 400 people left town this morning on the Congregational Sunday school excursion train. The train stopped at Braytonville, Blackinton and Williamstown, and probably took on 100 or more at those points.

The funeral of little Katie Dacey, who was killed at the hospital yesterday, was held from St. Francis' church today at 10 o'clock and the burial was in the south cemetery.

SUPERIOR COURT MATTERS.

A Number of North Adams Offenders Found Guilty.

The superior court keeps on grinding out North Adams and Adams cases. Yesterday morning the jury in the case of the Mosiers of Florida, indicted for assault with a dangerous weapon upon Robert L. Martin, returned a verdict of guilty against Eugene Mosier and found Joseph Mosier not guilty. Dr. Leon De Cruyssen retracted his former pleas and pleaded guilty to three indictments for indecent assault. He occupied finely-furnished rooms on Main street and by tempting with candy and other things succeeded in inducing little girls to his place. The police became suspicious and arrested him last fall, finding plenty of evidence. His case was continued at the January term and he has spent six months at the county jail awaiting trial. Judge Gaskell sentenced him only on one indictment, giving him three years in state prison with one day solitary confinement. Alfred Spry of North Adams was found guilty of adultery with Ann Daly of that place. Spry claimed to have married the woman without knowledge that she had a husband, and he said he gave the officers his certificate when he was arrested. He had no counsel. John Sullivan of North Adams was found guilty of indecent assault on an eleven years' old girl of Greylock. He called at her home one Sunday and was given a breakfast and a bed by the parents, who left three children in the house and went to church. During their absence Sullivan sent the two little boys out on an errand and committed the assault. He is thirty-four, his wife died four years ago, he has a child and he has lived in North Adams thirteen years. The jury was out two hours. The next case, which is now on, was that of Simon Samon of Adams for assaulting Rudolph Wettig of Adams with a dangerous weapon. Wettig and three companions, walking down street, the evening of April 19, heard a noise in a house opposite and crossed to see what was the trouble. Samon and some others in the house came out and assaulted the quartet and in the scrimmage Wettig got a bad knife wound in the left side. Dr. Boom testified that it was six inches long and an inch and a half deep, through the muscles. Wettig was laid up about ten weeks. Further testimony was heard this morning. Pittsfield has not a case to be tried.

FIELD DAY PREPARATIONS.

How Three Thousand Dinners Will be Obtained. Accommodation of Delegates.

The dinner committee of the diocesan field day held a meeting Sunday and decided some matters of importance. It was voted to order 3,000 paper boxes for the purpose of putting up dinners. The committee has found that there is a large number of women who are very desirous of providing one or more dinners and these boxes will be distributed to these persons so inclined. The contents of these boxes will be uniform. To secure the uniformity a printed bill of fare will be attached to the box. It will be, two sandwiches, two doughnuts, a buttered roll, a piece of pie, a banana, two peaches or apples, a piece of cheese, a pickle and a check for a cup of coffee. The donors will follow the bill of fare. About 3,000 of these dinners will be made. Clapp's band has been secured for the field day. Sacred Heart drum corps of Springfield will attend and will be given fifteen minutes time to give an exhibition of playing and marching just before the competetive drill of the cadets. One important thing the committee have under consideration is the accommodation of those who will arrive Saturday and Sunday to remain for the field day Monday. It has been decided to secure a list of rooms to let in respectable homes and when delegates arrive to direct them to these rooms. The executive committee headquarters, Father Mathew block, Centre street, will be pleased to hear from any one who will have rooms to let at field day time. The committees are pushing the work of preparation as fast as possible.

PREPARING FOR PLEASURE.

A Lawn Fete to be Held at Zylonite Tomorrow Evening.

A fete will be held tomorrow evening, if the weather is suitable, on the lawn north of the chapel at Zylonite. Those having the matter in charge have planned for a very pleasant evening and all who attend will be well entertained. Canopies will be erected to protect people from the falling dew, and under these will be served cake and ice cream, while a nicely arranged well will yield an abundance of refreshing lemonade. Clapp's band will be in attendance, which will insure plenty of good music, and a pleasant evening is sure to be enjoyed by all present. The ground is directly by the side of the electric railroad and cars will be run frequently to accommodate the crowd. The proceeds will be used for making much needed repairs on the chapel. If the weather is stormy the fete will be postponed.

ACCUSED OF FORGERY.

Stephen Connelley, was arraigned in the Pittsfield district court this morning on a continued charge of forging his mother's name to an order for $400 on the Lee savings bank, and will also answer to a new charge of obtaining $250 March 30 on an alleged forged order on the North Adams savings bank, the order being signed by the name of his father, who died some years ago. V. A. Whitaker, treasurer of the bank, says he does not believe the order is a forged one. There is no question, he says, but that the order was signed by the person who signed previous documents in the possession of the bank and which are acknowledged genuine.

QUARRELSOME BOARDERS.

When an Officer is Sent For They Leave Quickly.

Two strangers came to town a few days ago and obtained work from Porter & Hannum. They started to find a boarding house armed with a guarantee from their employers. They were admitted to Mrs. J. Billevoux's house on Lincoln street and remained there several days. Yesterday the men got drunk and proceeded to take entire possession of their boarding house, much to the annoyance of its mistress who maintains a very quiet and respectable place. They would not listen to any entreaty or advice and at last an officer was sent for. When the men learned of this they quickly decamped and were far out of the way when Officer Parrow arrived. Mrs. Billevoux, when the men cleared out, made an attempt to collect the board bill, but found they had borrowed money from their employers, much more than they had worked for. Therefore, unless the men return, the boarding mistress and employer will have suffered for their kindness.

MR. PERRY DOING WELL.

The News from his Bedside is of an Encouraging Nature.

Rev. A. T. Perry of Hartford, Conn., whose serious illness was noticed in this paper a few days ago, is doing quite as well as could be expected. His father, Deacon George B. Perry, was in Hartford Sunday and returned home Monday. When Mr. Perry arrived in Hartford Saturday the doctors gave him very little encouragement. In short, they frankly stated that they did not think his son had an even chance for recovery, but there soon came a change for the better and when Mr. Perry came away Monday there was reason to be much encouraged. Later news from the sick man is of a cheerful character and there is now strong hope of recovery, although the patient is not out of danger.

NO IMPORTED ITALIANS.

President Richmond Talks About Street Railroad Building.

C. Q. Richmond when he returned last night was interviewed about the matter of importing cheap Italian labor to be employed in building the railroad extension as was reported to the Central Labor union Monday evening. He had not much to say. He laughed at the idea and could not imagine who was the disturbing author of such a story. He thought it hardly worth while to take any notice of such wild accusations, but stated by way of contradiction of this one that a contractor was up here the other day to figure on the building of the railroad extension and one of the stipulations in the specifications given him was that North Adams labor, as far as practicable, should be employed.

Allen's Grocery Entered.

Allen's grocery store was entered by thieves last night sometime after midnight. The marauders gained entrance by removing a pane of glass in one of the rear windows. The person entering this aperture must have been a very small boy for the glass removed was but twelve by fourteen inches. Entrance must have been gained in this manner for the bar that holds the rear door cannot be removed except by one in the building. A lantern that stood on a shelf in the rear room was lighted, it is thought, and the money drawer was broked open by a scales weight. A screen had to be removed before the drawer could be opened. About fifty pennies were found in the drawer, but that was all. They went out by removing the bar and opening the rear door.

This is the second time that Allen's store has been entered, the first being a year ago.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Clapp's band will be engaged for the State Firemen's meet to be held at Pittsfield September 24, 25 and 26.

L. M. Barnes was in Troy, N. Y., today on business.

Miss Berta Tower left town this morning to visit relatives at Halifax, Vt.

Miss Harriet A. Hathaway has gone to Centre Harbor, N. H., to spend her vacation.

W. E. Whitaker, who returned from the sea shore a day or two ago, will leave town tonight for Kansas. Mrs. Whitaker is in New Haven, Conn., and will remain in the East till October 1.

Charles Gosselin of Ray's store is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anthony of Franklin Grove, Ill., formerly of this town, are visiting relatives and friends here and in Adams.

Mr. Sinclair, a Springfield newspaper man, is spending a short time in town.

The infant department of the Baptist Sunday school is enjoying a picnic at Hoosac Valley park this afternoon. The children met at the Baptist chapel, where they were supplied with tickets. They then marched to Main street with their lunch boxes and packages in hand and boarded the electric cars. There were five car loads and the party went away in high glee. The Universalist Sunday school of Adams is also at the park today and it is safe to presume that the menagerie will be well stirred up.

Not Dying.

ALBANY, July 17.—The report that Richard Golden ("Old Jed Prouty") is dying in this city is untrue. He has recovered and is now with relatives in Troy.

Peruvian Spite.

LIMA, July 17.—The feeling against Bolivia here is very strong. A crowd stoned the escutcheon of the Bolivian legation last evening.

THE TATTLER.

Lily, duchess of Marlborough, desires to be known henceforth as Lady William Beresford.

Miss Daisy Barbee, niece of Bailey Wagner of Atchison, Kan., was licensed to practice law a few days ago at St. Louis.

Miss Eliza Wesley, the granddaughter of Charles and grandniece of John Wesley, died recently in London at the age of 76. She was a church organist.

The Countess of Essex, who before her marriage was Miss Adele Grant, daughter of Mrs. Beach Grant of New York, has been accouched of a daughter.

Emma Playter Seabury of Pittsburg, Kan., has been awarded the prize of $25 recently offered by The Spire of Boston for the best short poem on "Love."

Miss Katherine Drexel of Philadelphia, who is now called Mother Katherine, has built a Roman Catholic church for the negroes in New Orleans, which will be called St. Katherine's.

The Armenians of Boston have presented to Miss Alice Stone Blackwell a valuable clock bearing the shield of Armenia. It is a testimonial of appreciation of her efforts for the race.

Miss Annie Dawson, an Arickaree Indian who graduated a few days ago from the Hampton school, has just been appointed field matron at Berthold, N. D., by the United States government.

Lillie Devereux Blake says Eve was a woman's suffragist when she ate the apple, and Adam stood and looked on, as an obedient husband should, and was glad to know that she was absorbing wisdom.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe took part in the patriotic exercises at the Norcross school in South Boston recently, delivering an address and reciting her poems, "To the Flag" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Miss Annie S. Peck, a scholarly young woman of Providence, is to make the attempt to ascend the Matterhorn this summer. She was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1878. While studying in Athens in 1885 she ascended Hymettus and Pentelicus.

Miss Frances Willard's example in learning to ride the bicycle bids fair to be imitated by many other women of mature years. The Rev. Phebe A. Hanaford, who has left her first youth some distance behind her, is practicing with the wheel, and Mme. Hanna Korany of Syria, too, is taking bicycle lessons.

The widely circulated report that Queen Victoria proposed conferring the Order of the Garter on little Queen Wilhelmina of Holland is found to be entirely without foundation. It would be an unprecedented act, as the Garter has never yet been bestowed upon a female foreign sovereign, and in no case would it be given to one under the age of 18.

THE STAMP OF STYLE.

Novel French creped silks are printed in chine devices.

Many of the new silk waists have entire fronts of guipure or point de gene lace.

Undressed kid gloves of pale cameo pink are worn with evening toilets of cream or pale rose color.

Box plaited waists of light colored liberty satin are fashionably worn with full gored skirts of white serge or crepon.

Sleeves of transparent material are lined with thinnest tarlatan to keep them in place and caught up with ribbon rosettes with pretty effect.

Yokes, revers, sailor collars and bands of satin or velvet ribbon edged or covered with jet are favorite modes of decorating silk or light wool dresses.

Pure undyed silk with a weave resembling canvas and rather course in texture is called Arabian silk. It is used for tailor suits for morning and traveling wear.

Dressy sleeves for afternoon as well as evening wear are made quite short, reaching only to the elbow. Thence falls a very deep, full frill of lace, covering the arm to the wrist.

Golden russet shades are in high favor once again in addition to tan, fawn and beige tints. These dyes appear among gowns, jackets, waists, capes, gloves and hosiery. Shoes to match are worn.

Costumes of pure white, from the plain crepon or silk parasol to the tip of the shoes, will be one of the prevailing fashions in summer dress, and they will be worn morning, noon and night in all the varying graces of elegance.—New York Post.

PEN, CHISEL AND BRUSH.

William Lamb Picknell, the American artist, has been awarded a third class medal by the committee on awards of the Paris salon.

Frank Fowler is painting a portrait of ex-Governor Flower for the executive mansion at Albany and of Archbishop Corrigan for the New York Catholic club.

Rider Haggard considers "Jess" his most finished novel, on which his fame will be most likely to rest. The heroine of the Transvaal tragedy was a real person, and her house is shown to tourists who visit Pretoria.

William Taylor Adams, "Oliver Optic," the veteran story writer for boys, although 73 years old, is still fond of travel. He says that in writing his tales he aims at simplicity of style, but makes it a point never to write down to boys.

Henry B. Hertz, the young New York architect, is an exhibitor at the Paris salon this year. He shows four architectural landscapes of English scenery. Mr. Hertz has been admitted to the Ecole des Beaux-Arts, having passed a creditable examination.

Rudolph Evans, a young Washington sculptor, is modeling a bust of Secretary Morton. "The young man has not taken a single measurement in making this bust," said the secretary, "and yet its proportions are so perfect that my old hat fits it as well as it does myself," which of course is high art.

GOTHAM'S POLICE.

The New York patrolmen are of the opinion that Theodore Roosevelt sets a bad example to labor by his willingness to work overtime.—Washington Star.

Thomas Byrnes always has been a man of nerve. Therefore he will continue to accept from the people of New York his honorarium of $4,000 per year.—New York Recorder.

From the reputation the New York police force has gained for sleeping, people are not surprised when they learn that many members of it want to retire.—Yonkers Statesman.

Mr. Corbett has gone into training, but he is not using the nose of Mr. Fitzsimmons as a punching bag.—Kansas City Journal.

THE GREAT YACHT RACE.

From now on this country has got to take interest in yacht racing. Whether or not the public know or care a picayune as to whether Defender or Valkyrie III is the better boat, or whether America's cup stays in New York or London, yet that public is about to be engulfed in a general wave of intense interest as to the outcome of September's or October's international race. Already the newspapers and magazines teem with the subject and the sooner one has ground upon which to make a guess and some talk, the better he will be up to date.

The Defender is a very fast boat. Her brushes with the Colonia in which she showed herself clearly superior, and her easy defeat of the Vigilant, last year's crack boat, mark the new cup defender as a wonder among all previously built yachts. She responds well to a light wind and stands up stubbornly in a stronger one; and she tacks with none of the ponderous deliberation of the Vigilant, the insuperable bar to the latter's success in easy weather in the land locked British courses last year.

The new cup challenger, Valkyrie III, built by Lord Dunraven, is said to be a very tender boat, does not stand up well in a stiff breeze, and was built particulary for light weather. But she is the best English boat, as shown by her defeating the Britannia by fifteen minutes. Yet it was necessary for Valkyrie III to beat the Britannia with something like that margin in order to begin a cup race here of twenty miles to windward with equal chances against a boat only as good as the Vigilant; for, rating Valkyrie II. and Britannia about alike, the Vigilant in a sound and steady breeze was from ten to fifteen minutes better. In the triangular race on Oct. 10, under that condition, the Vigilant beat that year's Valkyrie by ten minutes and a half.

The British challenger this year then has a gap to make up even before she can make sure of defeating the old Vigilant, and when it comes to the new Valkyrie's beating the easy victor over that boat, the chances are against England's bearing away the American cup.

A POLITICAL WEB.

Here is the woof and warp of political cloth found in this morning's Republican that may and may not have significance for some time to come in this district's politics. The Republican says:

Word comes from Franklin county that the ambition of Alvan Barrus for a third term as councilor from the Eighth district has stirred the politicians in that county. It seems that Charles A. Towne of Orange and ex-Senator Bartlett of Turners Falls are not the only aspirants. N. S. Cutler of Greenfield is in the field, and it is rumored he has the support of the Greenfield Gazette. Then ex-Senator Edwin Baker of Shelburne Falls wishes to be considered in the field. Senator Malone is credited with ambition after "larger game" no less than the congressional nomination, but that is a year away, and he may like to keep before the public meantime by this state office.

REACHED ITS LEVEL.

Yesterday our daily cotemporary, seeking to obscure the fact of its publication of undisguised fake "specials" and a most indecent and filthy advertisement, as well as baseless and foolish charges against this paper, sought refuge without argument in the use of personalities and name-calling. This is the final resort of every man without a defense. Our almost frenzied cotemporary will be allowed to retreat alone and undisturbed to its own level and refuge of name-calling and indulging in personalities. We will not follow there. Even weighted down with all the epithets applied to us by our cotemporary we cannot sink to this level. We confess our inability to defend ourselves in this particular field of journalism, now pre-empted and held alone and triumphant by our cotemporary. We must here part company.

There is a most peculiar and interesting debate going on in Chicago. It is one of gold against silver. W. H. Harvey of Coin's Financial school fame and ex-Congressman Roswell G. Horr of Michigan began a discussion at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon before the Illinois club in Chicago on the currency question. The debate, which will be delivered in parts of about 1000 words each, is expected to continue eight days. To the upholders of the yellow metal the privilege of opening was granted, according to agreement. Mr. Horr was obliged to confine his preliminary argument to 1000 words, and was answered by Mr. Harvey to the same extent. Then the Michigan congressman replied and was again followed by the expounder of free coin. After this both men stood ready to answer any question which might be propounded to them by members of the audience.

Ex-Governor Russell has been salmon fishing in New Brunswick, and took along with him some literature on the currency question for perusal between the morning and evening trips after salmon. He has been invited by the sound money campaign committee to speak next fall to Texans at the state fair in Waco, Tex. He was told by the committee men that 200,000 Texans would demand a sound money plank in the democratic platform and would bolt the party if free silver coinage prevailed in its doctrines. Gov. Russell says he quite anticipates speaking on sound money before an audience which will have many silver advocates, for this makes a change from the all-gold eastern audiences.

Ex Senator Ingalls of Kansas has this to say of his future: "When I was retired from the Senate in 1891, I announced then that should I ever return to public life I had no other ambition than to resume my old seat. My plan has been to begin where I left off. I believe that a great majority of the Republicans of Kansas and a good many men of other parties are kindly disposed toward my ambition. My correspondence is very large. Spontaneous and unsolicited assurances reach me every day from those who claim to represent public opinion in different localities to the effect that the sentiment in favor of my return is strong and increasing.

The suit for $15,000,000 against the Leland Stanford estate in California, for money said to have been fraudulently obtained from the Pacific railroad, is to be tried again at once in the United States courts, the government failing in its suit when tried before. If the government succeeds this time the Leland Stanford university would be without financial support.

The fact that only nine out of 115 men at work on the Notch reservoir are not local laborers attests the Prudential committee's loyalty to home labor and North Adams' interests.

LABOR UNION PLANS.

BELIEVES PRUDENTIAL COMMITTEE'S ACTION IS AN ADVANTAGE.

General Organization for Protection and Education Commenced.

The installation of officers was not the least of the business of importance transacted at the meeting of the Central Labor union Monday night. The best manner in which to properly celebrate labor day was discussed at length and it was voted to lay the matter over to the next meeting, July 25th, when all members of affiliated unions are invited to be present with those wishing to organize. The Central Labor union believes the time is opportune for organization among the unorganized members of the building trades as well unskilled labor. The boot and shoe makers and textile workers, particularly unskilled labor, whose present advantage is made apparent by the timely introduction of the system of day's work, instead of contract system, by the prudential committee of the town. Many instances could be quoted as happening in other places where much saving of money has been accomplished and better results obtained by the adoption of the new system. And so it behooves labor to organize for the better enforcement of the day's work system, not for the purpose of stirring up strife in the ranks of labor, but rather along the lines of progression, protection and education. All good citizens are agreed that the peace and prosperity of the industrial and commercial body depends mainly on the contentment and happiness of the wage earning class. To further these laudable objects the Central Labor union sends forth the invitation to organize and educate.

A communication was read from the Trade and Labor council of Minneapolis and endorsed by the American Railway union, Knights of Labor and American Federation of Labor, stating that the Washburn Crosby Co.'s flour and mill products were produced by organized labor and that the company were unjust in their treatment of union help, utterly refusing even to listen to their just demands, in marked contrast was the attitude of the Pillsbury Co. whose products are all made by union help fully recognized by the company. The request of the union was indorsed and the members o organized labor and their friends in North Adams are requested to patronize the Pillsbury brand which has the stamp of excellence placed on it by the Bakers International union of America.

Complaint was made by a delegate that the Chief Engineer at the reservoir was endeavoring to thwart the action of the prudential committee by recommending the hiring of cheap Italian labor on the job. It is hoped that the "Padrone" system will not prevail here now nor in the future. North Adams can better afford to give citizen labor the preference. But let it be understood that the Central Labor union makes no distinction as regards nationality, but do most earnestly protest as citizens and voters against the importation of cheap alien labor for it is a detriment to to the welfare of the community. We beleive in a fair day's wage for a fair day's work with the preference in all cases for American citizens, as cheap labor brings cheap results and causes poverty among the toilers. At the next meeting will be discussed the outlook for organized labor and if possible arrangements will be made for the celebration of Labor day by having some out of town speakers—Contributed.

A SINGULAR CASE.

A Cow's Mysterious Death Explained by an Autopsy.

About a week ago a cow owned by A. E. Hopkins of Blackinton was taken sick. Dr. McDonell was called and found the animal apparently suffering from a stomach trouble. She improved under treatment and was finally turned into the pasture supposed to be cured. The cow soon became worse and this time the symptoms indicated pneumonia. Treatment for this disease appeared to be followed by good results, but just as the cow was supposed to be out of danger indications of heart trouble appeared and yesterday the animal died.

Puzzled by such frequent and radical change of symptoms, Dr. McDonell decided to make an autopsy and learn, if possible, the cause. And the result of his investigation was indeed surprising. In the cow's heart he found a fine piece of steel about three inches long, which in all probability was taken into the stomach with food. The steel had worked its way through one lung and entered the heart, resulting in speedy death when it reached that organ. This accounted for the symptoms in their order,—first stomach trouble, then pneumonia and lastly heart disease.

The piece of steel is in Dr. McDonell's possession and is said to belong to some sort of mill machinery. The points are so small that it worked its way in the cow's body as a needle will in the human system.

Larkin Grand Marshal.

At a meeting last night of the parade committee of the Springfield Diocesan field day to be held here labor day, John Larkin was appointed grand marshal for the day. He is one of the oldest members and best workers of the society.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

—A son was born last night to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Beckett of Holbrook street.

—G. O. Braman is canvassing Williamstown for the sale of "The Complete Compendium of Universal Knowledge."

—The reservoir gang quit work yesterday noon on account of the rain. The men got thoroughly wet in the forenoon.

—The ground for the addition to the Eclipse and Beaver mills is being cleared and work on the foundation will soon begin.

—Mrs. Edmond Desmarias has received a death benefit of $508.15 from the Franco-American club, of which her husband, who died last week was a member.

—The Italian band is rehearsing regularly and making good progress. Prof. Perry, the leader, says the band will undoubtedly appear in public this fall.

—Elmer George Campbell, the three-months-old son of John and Martha Campbell of 94 West Main street, died this morning. The funeral will be held from the house Friday.

—T. F. Loftus is building a fifty-foot addition to the rear of his store, 17 Eagle street. A plate glass front will be put in with the entrance at the center. This will make the store one of the deepest on street.

—The Flora Staniford company in repertoire of plays will begin a week's engagement at the Columbia next Monday evening, with a change of bill nightly. Popular prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents will prevail. Seats on sale next Saturday morning at Bartlett's drug store.

—Clan McIntyre is growing fast. At its last meeting twelve members were initiated and at the next meeting Friday evening the same number will be made members. The clan has just had its by-laws drawn and approved and is prepared to welcome any number to its membership.

—A woman and two men have been rendering some pretty fair music on the streets for a day or two past. One of the men plays an accordion, the other a guitar and the woman a tambourine. They do some singing as well as playing, and assess the crowds in the usual manner of street musicians.

—Superintendent Hodge is progressing well with the work of laying the new high service water main from Pleasant street to the high lands north of the Windsor print works. The pipe is now laid well up Cliff street, and Mr. Hodge hopes, with good weather, to get the line through to Franklin street this week.

—Another concert will be given on the Drury academy grounds Friday evening. A good program will be rendered and there will be 200 chairs to let at five cents each. This will probably be enough to supply all who will want chairs; if not, more will be provided at the following concert. These open-air concerts are steadily growing in popularity and the attendance is increasing.

—In these days of special show window attractions Cutting & Co., are not to be outdone in the way of novelty. Yesterday afternoon some persons standing in front of the store noticed in a small window under one of the large show windows a half grown rat that appeared to be very much at home and which showed little fear of the spectators, who rapidly increased in number. The rat would stand up against the window and twist his nose at the crowd until some one would stick the end of an umbrella a little too close, when he would slip out of sight, but reappear in a very short time. When this had been going on for some time a second rat appeared, but this one was more timid than the first and soon withdrew from the gaze of the crowd. One of the clerks denied that the rats were there to advertise the fur department and vowed he would "fix 'em" if there was any virtue in traps.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Mrs. Ritterberg, wife of I. Ritterberg of the Eagle street clothing store, and Mrs. L. Rittenberg of Springfield are stopping at the Duncan house, Williamstown for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hughes arrived home yesterday from a pleasant nine days' trip through the Thousand Islands and to Lake George, Lake Champlain, Montreal and Quebec.

W. J. O'Brien of Lenox stopped in town last night while on his way to South Williamstown to visit his parents.

W. M. Hodge went to New York yesterday to see Mr. Swift and Mr. Pomeroy off for Europe. He said when he left that he might possibly join them for the voyage.

Mrs. Henry Temple of Blue Earth City, Minn., is the guest of Mrs. F. P. Haynes of Union street.

William Cully is ill at his home on Pleasant street.

Miss Bertha Mitchell gave a party at her home on Freeman avenue Monday evening in honor of her friend, Miss Maude Hunt of West Haverstraw, who is here visiting her and will soon return home. A good number of the friends of both the young women were present and a very enjoyable time was passed.

Charles Parrow of Simard's drug store has been ill for a few days, but is now recovered.

George Vassar of Sperry's store, is spending a two weeks' vacation in Rutland, Vt.

F. E. Livermore will leave town tomorrow for New York, from where he will sail Monday in company with Editor Chase, for Point Comfort, Va.

E. B. Carpenter is spending the day in Saratoga, N. Y.

Mrs. W. E. Babcock and children are visiting for two weeks in Greenfield.

HORSES AND HORSEMEN.

E. J. Baldwin intends to give his personal attention to the management of his stable this season.

Frenchmen take the defeat of favorites as they accuse Englishmen of taking their pleasures—"sadly."

Rowdy Jane will be the fast companion in name to Rowdy Joe, 2:08, both emanating from St. Joe, Mo.

There is a thoroughbred stud in Buenos Ayres named the Abraham Lincoln stud, and this season it has won $20,350.

A movement is on foot in London to initiate a ladies' driving club, the membership of which is to be exclusively restricted to representatives of the gentler sex.

Fred Foster, the owner of Dr. Rice, will now make his home in Illinois, near the Madison race track, where he has purchased a farm of 120 acres for $21,700.

Robert Bonner makes daily trips from New York city to Tarrytown to look over his horses. His favorite roadster from the station out is Uncle Dave, by Nutbourne.

Charles E. Harrington, who bought Monbars, the trotting stallion, for $3,500, sold him to Charles J. Reed, vice president of the Grand Rapids school furniture company for $4,000.

The original brougham built for the original Lord Brougham is still in existence. The body is in the garden of Mostyn House, Penrith, England, where it is used as a summer house.

"Why do you feed salt to horses?" This was asked at the civil service examination for patrol wagon driver at Black Rock, N. Y. One of the answers was, "To keep their meat from spoiling."—Horseman.

THE STAMP OF STYLE.

White wash silk knickerbockers are the summer novelty in the dual undergarments.

Plaid, striped and flowered ribbons are one of the conspicuous fads of fashion and are the main feature of many thin gowns.

Pale pink is the popular color in undressed kid gloves for evening wear, and pale yellow and very light tan are worn in the afternoon, with a darker shade of tan for morning and traveling.

Alpine hats of soft felt, in shades of brown and black and trimmed with a bow of silk ribbon and stiff quill or cock feathers, are worn by young ladies and matrons for traveling and use in the mountains

The demand for shirt waists exceeds that of any other season on record, and they are made in a greater variety of materials than ever before, the latest of which is dimity made up with white linen collars and cuffs

A whim of fashion which amounts to a craze is the large collar of lawn, batiste, lace chiffon and embroidery, which is displayed in such a diversity of styles in the shops and worn over every imaginable sort of gown in the street

Pretty, cool looking hats for midsummer are white, transparent straw, shaped somewhat like a sailor, except that the brim narrows toward the back, and trimmed with rosettes of white chiffon, white wings which spread out at each side and bright pink roses with many leaves.

The new plain and figured mohairs are gaining favor very rapidly. They are very silky in appearance, light in weight and do not hold the dust. The new alpacas most approved of fashion are a widely meshed material, peculiarly glossy, but almost rough in finish.—New York Sun.

WHEEL WHIRLS.

The chaperon isn't in it now if she doesn't ride a bicycle.—Boston Globe.

The man who owns a bicycle considers the man who does not as eccentric.—Los Angeles Express.

There are three ways of pronouncing "bicycle," but there is only one opinion of the popularity thereof.—Boston Herald.

While the ladies ride the bicycle in the best of taste, the way the men double themselves up is decidedly bad form.—Philadelphia Times.

We seem to be rapidly approaching the time when every child will be taught the use of the bicycle along with the other rudiments of knowledge.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

The bicycle is steadily reducing the value of horses and street car shares and increasing the value of human beings by making them more healthy.—San Francisco Call.

Cycling is, in fact, a science as well as an art, and to be a perfect cyclist one must be a perfect gentleman as well as a very discreet and wide awake citizen.—Baltimore Sun.

OUTSIDE THE PALE.

South America has not been struck by the bicycle craze, but she is having her revolutions regularly just the same.—Washington Star.

Buckingham palace is to have a new outside coat of paint and its stonework cleaned. It is 13 years since the palace was treated to a similar renovation by its owner, her Britannic majesty, Queen Victoria

We need some new tags for the international menagerie. The British lion has long been known to be a hyena, and it will presently be necessary to relabel the Russian bear as the Russian hog.—Chicago Times-Herald

If every Cuban fighter that has surrendered surrendered, and if every Spanish soldier that has died died (according to reports), at this moment the population of Cuba would consist chiefly of Cuban prisoners guarded by Spanish ghosts.—New York Mail and Express.

THE ART OF WAR.

Every German regiment has a chiropodist in its ranks.

Some prominent French military authorities have proposed that aluminium cuirasses should be constructed for the cavalrymen.

"A great war," a German proverb says, "leaves the country with three armies—an army of cripples, an army of mourners and an army of thieves."

ADAMS.

An Exciting Runaway.

"John Gilpin's Ride," made famous by the poet, could not hold a straw to the exhibition given by one young Foote of Cheshire, to the residents of Commercial street yesterday afternoon about 2.30 o'clock. The story of his ride is as follows: Norman Blanchard of Commercial street owns a running horse which he says can make the pace for any horse in this part of the country. The animal is to be ridden at the agricultural fair. Blanchard and Farmer Corliss of Cheshire had been trying to make a bargain on the horse, and the latter was to have him for two or three days on his farm. So he sent young Foote, a fellow of about twenty-one, to lead the horse to Cheshire. Mr. Blanchard let Foote have the animal but told him not to ride. The young man wanted the owner of the horse to understand that he had ridden and understood his business, and various other things. As soon as he got out of Mr. Blanchard's sight he mounted the horse. He wore a rubber coat, the tails of which the wind caused to flutter. That was all the horse needed and off he went, beating record time, the youth with his arms around the animal's neck and desperately yelling. Away they went up Commercial street until the passers-by could only see a streak. This kept up until they reached Phillips' woolen mill, and horsey took it into his head to turn in. He did, and on trying to jump a barbed wire fence caught his hind flanks and lacerated them considerably. The young man was thrown off but escaped uninjured.

Another Real Estate Transfer.

The old Methodist church has been purchased by the St. Jean Baptiste society, for $2900. The building will make an ideal society hall, its interior construction being almost perfect. The St. Jeans will make some changes in it and a little later will hold a fair.

WORSE THAN BRUTES.

Another Story of Fiendish Outrages Practiced Upon Armenians.

Women Become Victims of Lustful Mohammedans.

Practically the Slaves of "Tax Collectors" of the Various Villages.

[Special Correspondence.]

VAN, Armenia, June 8.—After the most careful inquiry it can be stated that in hundreds of villages in Armenia there is hardly one woman, old or young, who is not from time to time made the victim of the passions of the Kurds and Turks.

By way of a general statement of the situation, it may be said that in all the villages of Armenia the Christian women, both old and young, are absolutely at the mercy of their Kurdish and Turkish neighbors. This is not the case in the larger cities of Van, Bitlis, Moosh and Erzroom, because in these cities the large Armenian population is in itself a protection to the women; but in the villages where the Armenians are in the minority, protection is not possible, and the women are at the beck and call of any Kurd or Turk who happens to take a fancy to them. Moreover, this state of things is said to be perfectly well known to the Turkish government.

It is the custom of the government to sell to the highest bidder the tax privileges of the various villages, the purchaser having the right to collect all of the taxes from the people. In very many cases the number of young Armenian women in a village has a great deal to do with the price paid for the tax privilege. When the public sale is made of the tax privilege, it is no uncommon thing for the auctioneer to so that all may hear, that so many girls are available in the village. This is done most frequently in the streets of the city of Bitlis.

When a man has purchased the tax privilege of a village he considers that he has also bought and paid for the women of the village, and any attempt on the part of the husbands, brothers or fathers to resent this interpretation of the law is looked upon as high treason, punishable with death. If the Armenian men object to this treatment of their women, they are beaten and driven from the village, and in many cases even killed.

The tax farmer is able to take an extra profit out of his village by renting out to his friends among the Turks and Kurds the privilege of making use of such women as he does not want for himself, and Kurds who cannot afford to pay for this privilege content themselves with taking the women by force when the owner of the village is not present.

Kurds and Turks who cannot afford to make financial arrangements with the tax farmer, and enter the villages openly, are compelled to wait until they can catch the Armenian women going across the fields. Then the poor women are pounced upon and dragged out of sight of their friends.

The women who suffer the most are the brides. Turks and Kurds think it great sport to carry off a bride from the very arms of her husband, and to keep her in their own houses until they have Become Tired of Her Presence.

So great is the fear felt for the official class of Kurds and Turks by the Armenians, that oftentimes the compliment of forcible seizure is not offered to the brides. One case is cited in which the Kurdish chief does not even take the trouble to go to the houses of the women he desires. He merely says to his chief servant: "I want those two new brides. Tell one of them to come here tonight and the other tomorrow."

The servant who receives this order immediately gives notice to the families of the brides, and at the appointed time the brides present themselves to the chief who has power over them.

One Kurdish chief is said to manage the affairs of his village with some semblance of method and system. He makes it a rule that no girl shall be violated until she has become a bride. His theory is that when a maid has been violated, her chances of getting married are lessened, and she is, therefore, not as desirable a piece of property in the Oriental estimate of her village.

When, at the age of 12 or 15 years, she ventures to marry, this restriction is renewed, and the chief himself is usually the first to seize her and carry her off to his own house as the wedding procession leaves the church door. But the forbearance of this Kurd is a rare exception.

Ten Thousand Out.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—The striking ingrain carpet weavers decided yesterday afternoon not to accept the manufacturers' proposal to continue work at the present rate of wages until Dec 1. When their decision was announced the manufacturers decided to close all their factories. About 10,000 people will be thrown out of work.

Lost an Eye at Play.

BOSTON, July 17.—Annie Bornstein, 9 years old, was at play on Tyler street yesterday afternoon when she was struck in the face by a file thrown by one of her playmates with such force as to gouge out her left eye.

Who Knows "J. E. D.?"

HYDE PARK, Mass., July 17.—An unknown man, about 30 years old, was struck by a train here yesterday afternoon and instantly killed. The initials "J. E. D." were marked in ink on one arm.

Dissatisfied Weavers.

PROVIDENCE, July 17.—The weavers at the mills of the Fletcher corporation are endeavoring to secure the co-operation of the other Olneyville mills in an attempt to have the prices for weaving increased.

Her Fate Sealed.

BAR HARBOR, Me., July 17.—The three-masted schooner Julia Bailey, of Gardiner, laden with 37,000 granite blocks, is ashore on Sullivan island. There is little chance of saving her.

Disagreeable Weather.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., July 17.—Yesterday was a rainy and disagreeable day, and the president did not go fishing or carriage driving, but remained at Gray Gables.

Teamster Killed.

PORTLAND, Me., July 17.—Daniel Ferguson, a teamster, was killed by being thrown out of a wagon by a runaway team and striking his head against a pile of rocks.

Case of Negro Murderers.

HAVANA, July 17.—At Cayajahos, near Artemisa, a family comprising a man, three women and two girls were attacked by five negroes and brutally murdered, their bodies being frightfully gashed. Two other persons were also seriously wounded by the negroes, who were pursued and captured by the civil guard.

Won't Permit Work.

ISHPEMING, Mich., July 17.—The strike situation in Ishpeming and Negaunee gradually grows more serious. All work at the mines has ceased. About 25,000 men from both cities held a mass meeting yesterday. They decided to hold out and to molest all who dare to resume work.

WILD ANIMAL FARM.

A Regular Zoological Jungle to Be Started In Florida.

A wild animal stock farm in semi-tropical Florida is the scheme that a circus firm is talking of starting. The land, a plot about 6 miles square, has been surveyed, it is said, and the firm proposes to go ahead next fall and turn the circus animals out to jungle, instead of going into winter quarters. The circus men claim that not only can they in this way provide themselves with wild animals, instead of being obliged to go to Africa and India for specimens; but, in addition, they expect to be able to supply animals for the zoological exhibits of the country.

The firm claims to have secured an option on a tract of land in the extreme southern part of Florida, about one-half of it the thickest, densest swamp jungle possible to imagine. An old traveler in India and Africa, who was sent there to look the ground over, says that it compares favorably with any jungle he has ever seen in the orient.

The entire section of land will be divided by solid walls of strong iron fencing, so as to keep animals that will not affiliate separated. It is proposed to first lay a strong foundation, then build a low wall of brick some three or four feet high, and then imbed in this to a height of 12 feet more a strong iron fence. The idea is to turn the beasts loose in their respective inclosures and let them follow their natural inclinations and habits, just as they would in their native jungle. As the animals to be propagated are principally of the carnivorous family there will also be bred such smaller animals as they naturally prey upon for food. Special attention will also be given to the breeding of giraffes, camels, zebras, quaggas and other members of the herbivorous family.

In order to protect their preserves a concrete walk will be laid outside and extending around the entire wall, and watchmen on bicycles will make a tour as often as practicable of the entire inclosure. Certain grasses and herbs indigenous to the countries from which the animals are to be brought will be first planted, in order to provide, as nearly as possible, native foods. An interesting feature of this zoological jungle will be the monkey farm. In this section several acres will be devoted to orange, banana and nut trees, all of which grow naturally there. A wooden framework, extending above the height of the trees and completely surrounding the farm, will be built.—New York Press.

ANTEDATES SUSAN B.

Genuine Mother of Woman Suffrage Turns Up In Wyoming.

Mrs. Esther Morris of Wyoming is undoubtedly the mother of suffrage. She is past 80 years of age and journeyed from Spokane to Cleveland to attend the Republican league convention. Mrs. Morris tells an interesting story of how she came to be justice of the peace in her town years before Susan B. Anthony was generally heard of.

"There was a leading man of the town who was called away on business, and during his absence his wife and children were stricken with a severe illness. I came to the rescue and nursed them faithfully night and day, and when that man returned he was so grateful that he declared he would repay me with compound interest if it ever came within his power. Soon after that he was made assemblyman, and at my request he conferred upon me the office of justice of the peace. That's the way we do things in Wyoming."

Uniformity In State Laws.

Uniformity in the laws of the states is desirable in all particulars. The intention of the prison congress to urge the adoption of uniform laws regarding capital crimes is one to be commended. If it shall decide that capital punishment may be abolished and work to secure that result, it will find many supporters. If it shall decide that the death penalty should be continued, then it is desirable that the mode of killing shall be uniform and humane. It may be hoped the congress can show convincing reasons for the abolition of the death penalty.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Men Are Not In This.

The new woman is the target of all manner of criticism, but it will be noticed that she goes her gracious way in her own manner and hasn't the least intention of adopting any other way to please any other person or persons whatsoever. The new woman and the old woman have counseled together, and the men have nothing to say about it.—Denver News.

Lillian Will Make People Stare.

Miss Lillian Russell's bicycle costume consists of a suit of dark red bloomers, with coat and derby hat to match. She occasionally wears a skirt over the bloomers. It is said that she is having made a costume of white duck knickerbockers, and she will wear a white hat, white leggings and white shoes.—New York Telegram.

Nebraska Corn Crop Ode.

Once more we sing that corn is king,
And from the highest steeple
The cry is raised: "The Lord be praised!
Potatoes are the people."
No more we weep and lose our sleep
And bow our heads in sorrow.
The crops are great. In joy we wait
The harvest time tomorrow.

For those who mourn the loss of corn
Killed by the hot sand and blizzard
A joy awaits that permeates
Each saddened heart and gizzard.
When cold winds blow the drifting snow,
No trouble will we borrow.
For past distress the Lord will bless
Nebraska homes tomorrow.

There's going to be, as all can see,
A harvest time of pleasure,
And crops will yield from every field
Their joys in heaping measure.
Then dry your eyes, bid hope arise
And chase away all sorrow.
Your duster jerk, fall in and work
And draw the prize tomorrow.
—Nebraska State Journal.

Four Causes.

Four causes—unrestricted emigration, the low dive saloons, the carrying of deadly weapons and the gambling hells—are without doubt the most prolific source of the enormous increase in the prison population in the United States during the last decade. There are other causes, but these are most important.—Prison Mirror.

BIG TENTS ARE DOWN.

Christian Endeavor Delegates Taking In Historical Sights.

A Trip Over Paul Revere's Route on Bicycles.

Pilgrimages to Plymouth Rock and the Old "City of Witches."

BOSTON, July 17.—A scene of demolition greeted the few Christian Endeavorers who went down to see the big tents on the Common yesterday. The work of taking out the benches was started Monday night soon after the last spectator had gone home from the final meetings, and yesterday morning all the seats were removed, and the work of tearing down the platforms proceeded.

The big tents were taken down yesterday afternoon by the firm which leased them to the United Society of Christian Endeavor, and will probably be used again next year at Washington, although they remain the property of the maker.

Decorators and others dismantled the Mechanics' building yesterday, and the great structure is silent and deserted. The postoffice was closed yesterday, and the 300 or more letters remaining will be sent to the Boston postoffice.

Of the thousand or more Endeavorers who visited Mechanics' hall yesterday, many were in search of lost articles, and so admirable was the system of ushering that but few were disappointed in their search. Chief Usher Holt had his men so well trained that but few things were lost beyond redemption.

"Every night after the sessions," said Mr. Holt, "the ushers would come in with their arms full of articles found, most of which were rubbers, umbrellas, gloves, wraps, and occasionally small pieces of jewelry. We have found 40 pocketbooks, some of which contained considerable sums of money, and all these, with three exceptions, have been returned to their owners, who gave complete descriptions of the property. We have had on hand during the convention as many as 100 umbrellas, and other articles in proportion."

All the missing articles were taken to the headquarters of the United society at 646 Washington street, where they will be kept until called for by their owners.

The Endeavorers' Bicycle Excursion

started for Concord this morning, leaving Copley square at 7 o'clock. The delegates, mustered by states, formed in line and wheeled over the route taken by Paul Revere on the night of April 18, 1775. The route lies through Charlestown, Somerville, Medford, Arlington, Lexington and Concord, and not only runs through a beautiful country, but is replete with objects of historical interest for the whole distance.

In Medford there was a reception at the house of Secretary Baer, at which the mayor and other city notables assisted. At Lexington there was a stop of an hour, to allow the delegates to visit the many points of interest. Special tickets were provided for those who wished to leave the excursion at Lexington and Concord and return by rail. There were excursions by train to Lexington and Concord.

Four special trains left here yesterday for Plymouth. The first was the Ohio delegation, accompanied by delegates from Wisconsin, Illinois and other places. They were in charge of R. H. Magwood of Boston, and numbered about 350. Rev. W. E. Barton of Boston served as guide to the party, giving short addresses on the principal points of interest. "America" was sung at the rock. G. A. Whitney of Boston had charge of the second section; this numbered 750. The third section, with 780 in it, soon followed in charge of Charles P. Floyd of Winthrop. The fourth section left soon after, 720 strong, J. H. Pollard of Watertown having charge.

Fully 2500 Endeavorers joined in the visit, planned for their pleasure and edification, to Salem, the early colony, the scene of the witch trials and executions, and once the home of Hawthorne. It was a cosmopolitan company that gathered at the Union station and which boarded a special train. They were for the most part, however, people from the west and south who knew of Salem only from their readings and by the fame that has for years attached to it and its history. They were not mere sight-seers, impelled by curiosity alone, but were bound upon a pilgrimage to learn by object lessons some chapters in our history hitherto obscure. Salem was gayly decorated in honor of their visit.

Concerning Finances.

It is thought that the money already paid in and the amount pledged will be sufficient to pay all the expense of the convention. The societies have responded generously, and it is entirely due to them that so satisfactory a financial exhibit can be made. The largest items of expense have been: Hall, $10,000; decorations, $1000; speakers' expenses (traveling and hotel), $4000; printing and postage, $2000; badges, $1600; programs, $1500. There are other items which will bring the total up to about $22,000.

The business houses in Boston were not as liberal in their contributions as in other cities, but the officers of the convention feel that if called upon now the response would be far greater. For the Boston convention 53,000 regular badges were provided, and 5000 ribbon badges were furnished the late comers.

Shot a Boy.

WAREHAM, Mass., July 17.—Charles Ryder has been held for the grand jury, charged with shooting Leonard Kleib, a 12-year-old boy. Young Kleib says that he was passing along the road when he heard the tread of some one behind him. A voice cried out: "Stop, or I'll fire." At the same time Ryder discharged his pistol, the bullet passing through Kleib's left hand. The defendant's mental caliber is said to be rather limited.

Done In Secret.

PROVIDENCE, July 17.—Sails for the Defender will be made in this city. Infantry hall was hired yesterday afternoon, and, after taking possession, the designers chalked the floor in readiness for the laying of the canvas. The work will be carried on under the supervision of Nat Herreshoff. The doors of the hall are kept locked, and the utmost secrecy prevails.

An Insurance Contest.

LYNN, Mass., July 17.—The insurance companies in which the L. A. May company was insured will not pay the insurance on that company's stock, destroyed July 3, without a contest. The amount of the insurance is $40,000. The fire was caused by a lighted firecracker exploding among a lot of fireworks in a booth that the company had erected in front of their store. The underwriters claim conditions of the policies were violated by placing the booth in front of the store without giving notice or applying for a permit.

The reorganization committee is likely to secure the Whiskey trust property for $9,800,000.

M. Trubert has been appointed secretary of the French embassy at Washington, in succession to M. Tanguy.

A. N. Towne, second vice president and general manager of the Southern Pacific railroad, died at San Francisco.

Swanton's Big Fire.

SWANTON, Vt., July 17.—Fire yesterday destroyed four residences, the Central House, the Swanton Methodist church, three large barns and a number of outbuildings, causing a property loss that will reach $50,000. St. Albans, in response to a call for help, sent two pieces of apparatus and a dozen firemen. They experienced much difficulty in getting an effective stream on the fire, owing to the low water pressure.

Ready For Trial.

NEW LONDON, Conn., July 17.—The time is near at hand for the official trial of the torpedo boat Ericsson, which event has been frequently postponed and delayed. The lighthouse steamer Cactus has been engaged for several days buoying a course, which work was completed yesterday. The torpedo boat is now ready, and the first favorable opportunity will see her going over the course.

A Venerable Couple.

KENNEBUNKPORT, Me., July 17.—The diamond wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manuel of this town occurred yesterday. Mr. Manuel is 98 years old, and his wife two years his junior. Both are in excellent health. Mr. Manuel came here in 1817, and three years later married Miss Sarah Wildes. In early life he was a sailor, but for years has been a fisherman. Seven of their 10 children are living.

Steele Identified.

BOSTON, July 17.—Chief Inspector Watts received a telegram last night from Inspector Houghton, who was sent to New York in connection with the arrest of Max Steele, stating that Steele had been identified by several Boston people as one of the gang who swindled Boston banks out of $20,000 or more last spring.

An Indian Grave.

NEWTON, Mass., July 17.—A party of laborers repairing a wall on Ellis street unearthed a human skeleton yesterday afternoon. The remains were nearly eight feet below the surface. The skeleton was that of a full-grown man, and from the appearance of the skull it is supposed was that of an Indian.

Given Until Monday.

FALL RIVER, Mass., July 17.—The slasher tenders last night discussed the manufacturers' proposal, and it was unanimously rejected. Secretary Lonsdale was instructed to inform the Manufacturers' Association that there would be a strike unless a concession was made before Monday.

She's a Fast One.

BATH, Me., July 17.—The Maine Coast Navigation company's new steamer, Salacia, was given a trial trip yesterday, and proved herself to be the fastest boat on the river, showing 15 miles an hour with her engines not running at full speed.

Boston Man Stabbed.

BOSTON, July 17.—Alexander H. Murray, 22 years old, was stabbed and dangerously wounded in a quarrel last night. Oscar Johnson, 27 years old, is under arrest, charged with stabbing Murray. Both had evidently been drinking.

Got In Engine's Way.

WOBURN, Mass., July 17.—A train struck Martin Coyne, 10 years old, and Mary Cody, aged 9, at the Highlands crossing yesterday. The boy's skull was crushed, and the girl's right leg was broken. Coyne will die.

Will Be Given a Hearing.

AUGUSTA, Me., July 17.—At a meeting of the governor and council the Stain and Cromwell hearing was fixed for Aug. 12.

Harcourt In It.

LONDON, July 17.—Sir William V. Harcourt has accepted the offer of C. N. Warmington, who was nominated to stand for election in West Monmouthshire, to retire in his favor. There was to be no opposition to the candidacy of Warmington and Harcourt will be nominated in his place. The result of the general elections, therefore, is as follows: Conservatives, 166; Unionists, 23. Total, 189. Liberals, 29; Parnellites, 4; McCarthyites, 12; Labor, 1. Total, 46. The net Unionist gains up to this hour are 20 seats.

Death of Dr. Brooks.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Rev. Dr. Arthur Brooks, rector of the Church of the Incarnation, of New York, died on board the German Lloyd steamer Fulda on July 10 at 6 a. m. The body was brought to this port. Dr. Brooks came on board the Fulda at Southampton, dangerously sick and sank rapidly until he passed away. The cause of death was a tumor of the bowels.

WAS NOT UNEXPECTED

Stambuloff Was Aware of a Plot to Assassinate Him.

Ex-Premier the Victim of Russian Intrigue.

Prince Ferdinand Now Placed In a Most Uncomfortable Position.

SOFIA, July 17.—The excitement into which the city was thrown by the attempted murder of ex-Premier Stambuloff has not subsided, but, on the contrary, has become intensified. Several arrests have been made in connection with the outrage. The condition of M. Stambuloff is such as to give slight hopes that he may yet recover from his wounds.

M. Stambuloff, late yesterday, made a statement to the public prosecutor, who has ordered the arrest of Tufektchieff, who was formally charged with the murder of M. Beltcheff, the Bulgarian minister of finance, who was assassinated in March, 1891, while in company with M. Stambuloff. Mme. Beltcheff, it will be recalled, was recently induced to believe that M. Stambuloff was the murderer of her husband, and a warrant was issued, but never executed, for his arrest.

A man who witnessed M. Stambuloff's coachman pursue the assassin, says he saw a policeman strike the coachman because of the latter's refusal to give up the revolver with which he was chasing the criminals, and to whom the policemen were not paying any attention.

The Kolnische Zeitung (Berlin) calls attention to an interview which it had with M. Stambuloff some months ago. M. Stambuloff then had forebodings of his fate, and said that a band had been formed at Uetschbunar, a suburb of Sofia, which practiced the use of firearms. The government said M. Stambuloff was aware of their existence, but winked at it. Among the band were the murderers of M. Beltcheff, former minister of finance of Bulgaria, who was assassinated in 1891. "They have taken an oath to assassinate me," said M. Stambuloff in the interview, "and to avenge Major Panitza (executed for treason in 1890 at the instance of M. Stambuloff). Prince Ferdinand is included in the list of impending victims."

A Perilous Situation.

Stambuloff represented the most ardent patriotism and national ambition of his people. He was the heart of the opposition to Russian influence, and when he retired from the premiership a short time ago, that act was felt to be the signal of a great change. Other evidences of that change have not been wanting. Prince Ferdinand seems to have decided that the best course for Bulgaria was to accept the Russian alliance, and it is for that that he has left his kingdom.

Stambuloff was a strong statesman in a position which circumstances rendered untenable. Bulgaria needed such a man, but that man should have been its prince. Ferdinand would have been abolished long ago but for Stambuloff, and his dismissal meant the subservience and final subjection of the little country which made so brave a fight under Alexander of Battenberg for its autonomy, and gained it. The foremost man in Bulgaria for the last 10 or 12 years, Stambuloff was the latest victim of Russian intrigue.

Prince Ferdinand is apparently between two fires. What he especially desires is the formal recognition of his princely status by Russia. He has received a deputation of Macedonians, and though he lectured the members of it, the fact that they were received at all has been freely commented on. Further, Prince Ferdinand's unexplained journeys and the ambiguous language of the Bulgarian government papers have given rise to the belief that the movement in Macedonia is being encouraged by the prince and his ministers.

Courting the Czar's Friendship.

On the other hand, as is made evident, Prince Ferdinand is earnestly bent upon standing well with the czar, in the hope, of course, of obtaining from that august monarch the official recognition of his rulership, which Russia, and in consequence the rest of Europe, has so long denied.

The inauguration of this distinctly Russophile policy dates from the fall of Stambuloff, last year. Stambuloff fell because he put his faith in the triple alliance, but was unable to obtain from it a recognition of Prince Ferdinand's international status. Hence, since Stambuloff and the triple alliance, whose steadfast supporter he had always been, could not obtain for the prince what he desired, Stambuloff was crushed, and a reapproachement was attempted with Russia.

The difficulty of Prince Ferdinand's position lies in the fact that the sentiment of the bulk of his subjects is decidedly anti-Russian. Since Stambuloff's overthrow there has been an increase of the influence of the Russophile party in the principality, but the distrust with which Russia has come to be regarded in Bulgaria is widespread, as well as deep.

These two circumstances—Prince Ferdinand's desire to please Russia in order to obtain a recognition of his rulership from the czar, and the thorough unpopularity of Russia in the principality—combine to render the situation in Bulgaria both complicated and dangerous.

The Defender's Rival.

NEW YORK, July 17.—The Vigilant reached Erie basin at 5 o'clock last evening. The Defender's only competitor for the honor of representing the United States in the international cup races will be drydocked. Captain Barr thinks the Vigilant has a royal chance to defeat the Defender at the trials.

Counterfeiters Bagged.

NEW YORK, July 17.—A counterfeiter's den at 95 Fourth avenue was raided last night by several deputy marshals. Three men were molding coin. Two of them, Bill Jones and Harry Kitchen, were captured. The third man, Patrick Carr, broke both his legs in an attempt to escape.

More Troops Needed.

RICHMOND, July 17.—Company D of the First regiment left here for Lunenburg Courthouse in response to a telegram that there might be trouble, and the force of two companies was not sufficient to protect the four alleged murderers of Mrs. Pollard.

Must Face the Music.

LONDON, July 17.—An extradition order was granted yesterday in the case of Percy B. Taylor of New York, a bookkeeper, who is wanted by the United States authorities on the charge of forgery.

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

The Libre club of New York will send dynamite balloons to Cuba.

The government's appeal in the Stanford estate suit was granted.

A New York excursion steamer was fined $1000 for overcrowding.

Wyoming settlers, fearing depredations of Idaho Indians, are under arms.

The issue of gold certificates has been resumed at the treasury department.

Rebels in Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, offered unsatisfactory terms of peace.

Thirty-six of the crew of the wrecked steamer City of Mexico reached Montreal.

IN THIRD PLACE.

The Bostons Severely Drubbed at the Hands of the Cincinnatis.

CINCINNATI, July 16.—Sullivan was what is popularly known as "pie" for Cincinnati, and the Reds ate him up to the crust, leaving never a mouthful. Dwyer by comparison was hardtack for the devourers of beans. In every inning but one a Bostonian reached first, but few got any farther. Cincinnati's victory places Boston in third place.

Given the Mitten.

HALIFAX, July 17.—John Curley, a well-known cabman, lies in a precarious state, suffering from poison taken deliberately on account of disappointment in love. Curley loved Miss Minnie Graves. The wedding day was fixed, and the prospective groom prepared a home for his intended. The young woman, however, changed her mind. Curley prepared two packages of "rough on rats," mixed the stuff in water and drank it. Doctors pumped considerable of the stuff from Curley's stomach.

Peace Yet Far Away.

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 17.—The peace negotiations between the government and the insurgents in Rio Grande do Sul are reported to include general amnesty and the appointment of a national arbiter by the government concurrently with Castilho. Few believe that the scheme will succeed. The Castilho party demand the absolute submission of the insurgents. It is the general impression that peace will not last unless Castilho resigns.

Not Guilty.

LA PLATA, Md., July 17.—The trial of Mrs. Farrell, charged with murdering her husband, ended yesterday in acquittal. Mrs. Farrell broke down and became hysterical. Hearty applause burst out and swept spontaneously over the audience. General approval was expressed at the verdict. The trial has proved one of the most noted in the criminal annals of the state.

Fleet Martin Hogan.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 17.—Martin Hogan, the fleet fielder of the Indianapolis base ball club, made a tie of the world's record at 100 yards yesterday. He defeated Henry Buschmann, the Indiana intercollegiate champion. Hogan completed the distance in 9 4-5s, which is the record held by H. Bethune, the professional runner.

Shocked Haverhill Folks.

HAVERHILL, Mass., July 17.—Henry Smith, robed only in a shirt, created a sensation yesterday by promenading up and down the main streets. He carried a stove poker in his hand and threatened to brain anybody who interfered with him. Patrolman Pearson, after a hard tussel, landed him at the station.

Two Were Killed.

JACKSON, Miss., July 17.—A riot occurred at Learned last night between the McRea and Terrill factions, who were engaged in a lawsuit. Fifty-two shots were fired. Two men were killed, another mortally wounded and several injured.

Uruguay Is Interested.

MONTEVIDEO, July 17.—The assembly has voted $2,000,000 to increase the numbers and efficiency of the army, which will be raised by fresh taxation. This step has been taken in view of the troubles between Chili and Argentine.

CLAIMS INNOCENCE.

What Holmes Has to Say Regarding the Murder of the Pitzels.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—H. H. Holmes, the insurance swindler, accused of having murdered the Pitzel children, whose bodies were found in Toronto, denies having any knowledge whatever of the crime. It is probable, however, that he will be taken to Canada, there to answer the charge of murder, as the authorities here have given up the hope of fixing upon him the responsibility for the death of the man found in the Callowhill street house, this city, and who it was supposed was the father of the Pitzel children.

MRS. PITZEL.
(Mother of the murdered children.)

Holmes asserts that in October of last year he was in Toronto, where he had left the Pitzel children in charge of Minnie Williams, the girl he met in Chicago. He asserts that he knew nothing of what became of them after that time, and he always believed the Williams girl had taken them to Europe. He also insists that he knew nothing of the boy, and that he had nothing to do with the death of Pitzel.

Superintendent of Police Linden declares that there is no possibility of convicting Holmes of the murder of the man found in the Callowhill street house, and says the authorities here will not oppose his extradition to Canada.
